Forecast For Wales
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Monday 05 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Wintry showers, particularly in the west, where ice is likely.

This Evening and Tonight:
Tonight will see wintry, often snowy, showers for many, though skies remain clear in the east and southeast of the country. Widespread frost developing. Snow showers heaviest along western coastal areas where ice is likely to form. Feeling cold. Minimum temperature -4 deg C (25 deg F).

Tuesday:
The wintry showers continue, turning widespread from midday, bringing snow to many across the country. Patchy cloud allows for some sunny spells, though still feeling cold in the wind. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Largely cold and wintry through this period, with widespread frosts. Some rain and snow Wednesday, but largely dry Thursday, with winds strengthening. Rain followed by widespread wintry outbreaks on Friday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.